MR. ALLEN H. STROHMAN

Although he was here but a short time, Mr. Strohmman left an indelible mark upon the students of Ludlow High. His apt wit, his scintillating personality, and his unfailing courtesy will ever be remembered by those students with whom he was associated. Under the direction of this devoted teacher, the band injected a new spirit into the assemblies and the athletic contests. Mr. Strohmman was a man of exceptional musical ability. He did everything in his power to help students who needed individual aid or those who desired further study.

To this gentleman, teacher, and friend of every would-be musician in our school, the Class of 1962 is honored to dedicate this edition of THE LUDLOW LION!

FOREWORD

The class of 1962 is the last class to be graduated from this building. Not only do we end an era in the history of Ludlow High School, but we also end an era in our individual educational histories. However, the Class of 1962 does not look upon this graduation as an end but rather as a beginning—the beginning of additional experiences on our chosen walks of life. Our President, John F. Kennedy, has named the remaining years of this decade “The New Frontier.” So is our future a “New Frontier.” However, just as the future of our country is rooted in the history of its past, so is the future of the Class of 1962 rooted in the history of our past activities. Therefore, we present this record of the accomplishments of our high school years, and as the “New Frontier” of our country rests upon the wisdom of that great leader, Thomas Jefferson, so do we draw upon Jefferson’s own phrases to herald each milestone in this journal of our high school careers. This record will show, we believe, that as Thomas Jefferson said: “We are always equal to what we undertake with resolution.”

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

The pages of the Yearbook of the class of 1962 contain a record of the achievements of the class in their academic, athletic, and social events—those phases in which you have accomplished so much in your years at Ludlow High School.

I have been very well pleased with your response over the years, and your contributions to the history of Ludlow High School, and congratulate you especially on the preparation of this fine book which will serve as a fitting testimonial to the members of the Class of 1962.

A special word of praise is extended to the Editor and Staff members through whose efforts this book has been readied. I realize that it is not an easy undertaking and can well appreciate the many hours that Judy and her staff have put into its preparation. I know that its success will serve as a reward for their labor and in some measure compensate for the time and effort which it required of them.

As you review now and in later years the events of your high school days as set forth in these pages, I hope that all the members of the class may remember with pleasant feelings the associations with Ludlow High School and the memories of these days shared with the graduates of the Class of 1962.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The year 1962 will long be remembered as an eventful year in the history of Ludlow. New schools, new community facilities, as well as rapid overall growth mark the year 1962.

Yet in other ways all of us will remember the year for the class the Ludlow High School graduated. The record of your achievements—the magnitude and the variety—will long be a source of pride to all of us. We are quite sure that the decades ahead will see members of the class of 1962 making great and significant contributions to the society in which they live.

CLASS PRESIDENT
Chester W. Hawrylcw
"His zeal is unbounded"

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

At this time I should like to express my sincere gratitude to the members of the Class of 1962 for electing me to serve as their president. It has been a great pleasure, a wonderful experience, and a distinct honor for me.

Our class has worked well together to make our final years memorable ones. The success of our Senior Year activities—The Booster Day Dance and Bonfire, The Senior Show, Graduation activities, and The Ludlow Lion have all been examples of the proficiency of our class. Our success, however, could not have been attained without the aid and co-operation of the senior class advisors, to whom we are truly grateful. A special note of thanks also goes to Mr. Wrinn, without whose efforts, the unforgettable Senior Show would not have been possible.

In conclusion, I hope that the past four years will serve as your inspiration for success . . . and for the resolution to achieve it. Now, with the memories and the knowledge acquired at Ludlow High School, it is up to each of us to fare forth into the frontiers of the future.

Sincerely,

Chester W. Hawrylcw

CLASS HISTORY

"We hold these truths to be self-evident." These are Thomas Jefferson's famous words; and for the Class of 1962, they hold a special meaning. It was just a short time ago when the Class of 1962 began the first of its four historic years. As a new class, we struggled to expand our frontiers. Chosen to pioneer us through our Freshman year were: Robert McChesney, President; Phyllis Kozyra, Vice-President; Judith Humber, Secretary of State; and Elaine Smith, Secretary of the Treasury. Our cabinet members included Robert Amos, Anne Mongeon, Armand Minnie, and James Wadas. Our inaugural ball, "Silver Starlight," was an encouraging success, and we completed our first year with an equally successful "Sock Hop."

As we entered our Sophomore year, we were ready to reach new heights to achieve our desired goal. We re-elected Robert McChesney, President; Anne Mongeon, Vice-President; Judith Humber, Secretary of State; and Sheryl Bolaski, Secretary of the Treasury. The cabinet members included Robert Amos, Elizabeth Genthner, Jacqueline Hope, and Jeannette Story. We added to our accomplishments with our ball, "Autumn Leaves." The latter part of the second year saw us enjoying an old-fashioned "Mardi Gras."

Inestimable time seemed ahead as we faced the opening of our third year. A change in leaders resulted in the election of Chester Hawrylcw, President; Michael Szlosek, Vice-President; Philomena Fabrocini, Secretary of State; and Robert Howes, Secretary of the Treasury. For cabinet members to assist in the task of governing, we chose Donna Bruni, Elizabeth Genthner, Robert McChesney, Sandra Saletnik, and Patricia Walz. Slowly approaching the final stages of our educational journey, we sponsored our fall dance, "Le Chat Noir D'Automne." In honor of the departing class, we entertained them at the Junior Promenade, "In the Still of the Night."

Now, at last our final year has come and passed. We have completed this most important of our four years with the election of Chester Hawrylcw, President; Michael Szlosek, Vice-President; Jacqueline Hope, Secretary of State; and Richard Thompson, Secretary of the Treasury. The cabinet members are Sheryl Bolaski, Judith Humber, Robert McChesney, and Patricia Walz. Our last gala was the "Booster Day Dance." Next, we reveled in the Senior Show, the Junior Promenade, and Ivy Day. Today, at our Senior Assembly, we are pleased to share with the underclasses some of our class records. Tonight, we shall become alumni of this school—alumni whose yearbook is still to be completed. Since it will cover all the events of this graduation week, we are content to wait until fall to receive it.

CLASS POEM

We'll search through life for many a year,
And seek varied goals we hold so dear
Life will force us often to pay,
While our old school seems far away.

New roads we'll travel and goals we'll seek,
And life will force us to be meek.
Who loses a goal must surely pay,
But school will guide him on his way.

We'll leave the Halls of Ivy
While life will seem so cruel,
But we shall know forever
We're armed by our old school.

We're armed with the shield of Justice
And brandish the sword of Right.
We'll travel through the darkness
And carry the torch of light.

CLASS WILL

This, the Class of 1962, being the last graduating class of the present High School building on Chestnut Street, of the Town of Ludlow, the County of Hampden, and of the State of Massachusetts, and being staunch adherents of the principle that "you can't take it with you," declare this to be our last will and testament. Thereby, we revoke all previous wills and testaments. Collectively we bequeath the following:

To the FACULTY, we leave the pleasure of helping to mold new traditions in the Ludlow High School. Lest the teachers think this too benevolent a wish, we add this codicil: we hope each teacher revels in the chores of moving his paraphernalia to the new high school, and may each day be fraught with every conceivable problem that always arises on every shake-down cruise.

To the three UNDERCLASSES and the present 8th GRADE—the enviable position of being the first tenants of the new high school on Chapin Street. Be it known that this class is hereby resolved to haunt their pleasures with sharp shafts of envy!

INDIVIDUALLY we bequeath the following:

BETTY ANN ABAIR: To the Faculty all her textbooks so that they may distribute them to next year's fortunate Seniors.

TONY ADAMSON: To Gene Baldrate, his ability to be the slowest man on the football team.

DOROTHY ALPHONSO: To her cousin Elaine Marques, her moldy gym suit that will soon fit her if she keep on eating pizza.

MICHELE ALVES: To Judy Kolodziey the ability to get along with Miss Kudlic as well as she has.

MARIO JOHN AUGUSTO: To Elaine Jorge and Judy Duarte, his ability to watch the late movie and still be able to go to school the next morning.

MARIA AUGUSTO: To Clara Marques, her ability to cut into the hot lunch lines without ever getting caught by Mr. Mullins.

ELIZABETH BARTH: To her cousin Helen Taylor, her position as president of the Hi-News Business Staff.

ANNE BEAUREGARD: To Mr. Peter Boita, a lock of her hair.

SHERYL L. BOLASKI: To any brave Junior with an even temper and flying fingers, her second-year Stenography class.

DAVID BOURCIER: To Adele Leonardo, his dexterity in operating the cash register at a check-out counter.

DONNA BRUNI: To anyone who admires birds, her seat by the window in English.

JOAN BRUSCHI: To her sister Suzanne, the right to fail one subject each term except in her Senior year.

THOMAS CAIRNS: To Mr. Hurley his ability to vote Republican although he is a Democrat.

MICHAEL CARLETON: To anyone who has a need of fresh air after one of Mr. Boita's "Sick" jokes, his seat near the back windows in "Trig."

LAWRENCE A. CARPENTER: To anyone who wishes he lived in the Elizabethan Age, his seat in Miss Saulnier's class.

BARBARA CARRINGTON: To Bonnie Charest the art of surviving the Physical Ed. course.

ELAINE CARROLL: To Elaine Quaglini, all the fun and excitement of cheering at the Small Schools Tournament, with the hope that Ludlow will be there next year.

MICHAEL CARROLL: To anyone who wants "it," his little brother, Petey—an up-and-coming Senior.

SHARON CASTANERA: To Clara Marques, her "fabulous" Senior year.

MANUEL CASTRO: To the wildest, Eugene Gay, one '57 Dodge.

GERALDINE CHENEVERT: To Ann Arbor, Mr. Rooney's wonderful smile when he is about to assign a book report.

FERNE CHESTNUT: Leaves all her scarfs and kerchiefs to Steve, the scarf snitcher.

JANE CIBOROWSKI: To Adele Leonardo, the back seat she had in Mr. Rooney's class, where she got such an excellent view of the pigeons.

ALICE CIPRIANO: To all underclassmen, her seat in the lunchroom; for years she has sat where every teacher could look over her shoulder.

JUDITH CODDING: To my sister Dale and the Sophomore class, the trials and tribulations, and the fun, of being a Senior.

LOUIS DE TOMAS: Leaves his ability to have a different car each week to Bruce Dickey.

BARRY DIAS: Wills to his kid brother his seat in Mr. Hurley's "Problems" class, to keep reminding Mr. Hurley there is only one party in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts—the Democratic party.

SANDRA DUCHESNE: Leaves her front seat in Problems to whoever would enjoy the funny little remarks Mr. Hurley makes when you can't answer a question.

JEANNE DUQUETTE: To Lorraine Kolano, her front seat in Problems in the hope that she enjoys being an example in most of Mr. Hurley's Criminal cases.

SANDRA EVANGELISTA: Leaves!!!!

JAMES EVANS: Leaves all History text books to Mr. Mullins, since he is so good at forgetting things.

PHILOMENA FABROCINI: To Dolores Gonsalves her ability to keep Mr. Rooney and Mr. Mullins arguing over who is—to quote a phrase—the most hen-pecked husband.

MICHAEL FAIRBANKS: To any boy who wants it, his ability to go to a dance stag and wind up with at least four girls.

BARBARA FIJAL: To Connie all the fun that goes with Girls' Basketball and to her brother, Richard, her seat in Mechanical Drawing.

PATRICIA ANN FLEBOTTE: To the Juniors, the hope that their graduation at the new Ludlow High School will be as memorable as ours.

JACK FONTE: To all the broken-hearted girls and Mr. Kurty, his kid brother, Jim.

JOHN FOURNIER: To Elaine, 180 more school days to enjoy life.

STUART FULLER: Leaves his artistic sweat shirts to anyone who appreciates fine art.

LAWRENCE GAGNE: To anyone who can use them, a used bottle of "Pep Pills," guaranteed to keep you awake no matter whose class you are in.

ELIZABETH GENTHNER: Leaves her "Oh, My Goodness" to a certain underclassman for next year's Senior Show.

MITCHELL GRYZWOC: To his brother, Stan, his ability to participate in three sports and to be good in all three.

RICHARD GUERCI: To anyone who claims it, all the knowledge that has passed over his head in four years of high school.

CHESTER W. HAWRYLCIWI: To Bruce Dzuira, the lover of the Sophomore class, two acres of land off Alden Street.

JOHN HENDERSON: Leaves his gym clothes to the person who stole them.

NANCY HIERSCHE: To her sisters, Susan and Judy, those wonderful, nourishing, "eat-in-a-hurry-lunches."

ALTON LEON HIGGINS, JR.: To Norman Sorrell his ability to pass Mechanical Drawing without passing in a drawing.

JANNETTE HILL: To any lucky junior girl her locker on the boys' side of the locker area and all of the trials and tribulations that go along with it.

JACQUELINE HOPE: To future office holders the ability to take the oath of office by raising the left hand.

ALFRED HOULE: Wills to Robert Majka a new hiding place in the new school to sneak a smoke.

ROBERT HOWES: To Fabe de Mill his ability to out-drag Richie Rodrigues with his Model A.

JUDY HUMBER: To her brother Jeff, a book entitled "How I taught Dorothy Provine to Charleston" by Henry E. Benjamin.

JOSEPH KAWECKI: To any young deserving bachelor his beat-up locker partner.

JACQUELINE KELLY: To her sister, Linda, her quietness and patience.

SANDRA KIVIOR: To anyone, the ability to try to do Mrs. Cormier's Book-keeping.

CAROLYN KOWALSKI: To Elaine Quaglini, who never was of any help to her, because she has the same problem, one more year of squinting, trying to read the score.

PHYLLIS KOZYRA: To any future girl basketball player her seat on the bus with the hope that she too will have an iron stomach to consume all the "delicacies" that are eaten on the way home from the away games—good luck, and here's hoping you will have a speedy recovery.

GAIL KRAWIEC: To her brother, Stephen, all her gym equipment which includes: 1 old gym suit, 2 pairs beat-up sneakers, and 1 moldy towel.

CAROL KULIG: To Judy and Kathy her locker that never seems to close without a kick.

LANCE LE BRASSEUR: To Miss Saulnier his "Wild" bike in hopes that she will be able to get to the new high school.

ELIZABETH LIVERMORE: To her sister Linda her many hours spent at the pond.

MARY LOPES: To Bonnie and Adele the fourth seat in the second row in both Bookkeeping and "Problems" classes.

AMELIA J. MAKUCH: To Linda Kryzek, the ability to pass Mr. Cant's "difficult" Economics tests.

ROBERT McCHESNEY: To any person who is in the market for some cheap wallpaper, his last 347 maximum honor cards.

CAROL McDONALD: To anyone who wants them, the many pleasant hours spent reading Macbeth.

RICHARD MELBERG: To any frustrated trumpet player his baritone horn—CAUTION: It becomes heavy after three miles.

JOAN MIGACY: To her brother, Bob, four years of high school in the hope that he has as much fun in his senior year as she did.

ARMAND MINNIE: Leaves his parking space in front of the school to anyone who has a car that will fit into it.

ANNE MONGEON: To Danny Bates, her permanently wet gym towel that she used to prove to Miss Kudlic that she had taken a shower.

ROBERT MOORE: To his brother his seat in typing.

SANDRA NELSON: To any soccer fan who follows the "Away" games, her place behind the bus, in the hope that he won't be as embarrassed as she was.

FRANK NIETUPSKI: To any underclassman his ability to sleep with his eyes open.

RONALD O'KEEFE: To his younger brother John, the teachers and memories that he has enjoyed.

BARBARA ONDRE: To Skip Young, her gym suit, because he thinks he looks so well in shorts.

JAMES OUIMETTE: To anyone who will take them, his gym clothes—that's how he got them.

JOHN PALATINO: To the members of the soccer team, the task of breaking the new record of transporting 18 soccer players from a game in his 1948 Nash, and being able to duck and hide as Chief Thompson goes by.

PETER PALIKI: To anyone who wants the distinction, his ability to miss making maximum honors by getting a "U" in gym.

RONALD POBIEGLO: To his sister, his locker in Mr. Kurty's gym class.

THADDEUS PROROK: To any underclassman, the pleasure of going through the obstacle course in the hallways at 12:30.

FRANCES PRYSTUPA: To all future seniors the thrill of driving the school car if it lasts another year.

JOE QUIEROGA: To Red Savoie his ability to defend the honor of soccer against such burly characters as Tony Adamson and John Saletnik.

RICHARD RODRIQUES: Leaves the ability to do nothing to an ambitious soul who seeks rest and quiet.

DAVE RUSSELL: To our venerable, sagacious principal, George E. Russell, an electric golf cart to enable him to patrol in style the long halls of the new high school.

JOE ROSS: To his brother, Tim, his ability to get along with Mr. Schube.

CYNTHIA SALETNIK: To her sister Marion, all of her seats in Mrs. Cormier's classes.

JOHN SALETNIK: To the Senior Show of '63, one borrowed raccoon coat and five free Charleston lessons from Mr. Benjamin's school of the dance.

SANDRA SALETNIK: To Nancy Tokarz, a barrel of aspirin to last her through her 120 hours of senior shorthand and her 150 hours of shorthand homework.

DOUGLAS SANFORD: His bad luck on motorcycles to anyone who is crazy enough to get on one.

JEAN SARACINO: To her sister Anne, 280 prepared box lunches, so she won't have to buy hot lunches next year.

DOROTHY SEPIOL: To Dolores Gonsalves, her gym sneakers so she can catch "Butch."

MARY JANE SEVERYN: To Elaine Jorge and Marsha Mucha, her seat in Bookkeeping and her ability to understand Mrs. Cormier.

AUGUSTO SEVIVAS: To his brother Ronnie, the ability to keep the "chiketas" happy at all the parties.

SYLVIA SIBIK: To her brother Edward, the ability to pass Miss Saulnier's English class.

ELAINE SMITH: To any Junior with a strong stomach and a hollow leg, her two daily lunches, and her position as official taster for Mr. Mullins.

MARTIN SMITH: To the next student leader of the band, a bottle of aspirin and some tranquilizers.

BARBARA SMOLA: To Margaret Webb, her ability to sleep through art class and get an A for the term.

MANUEL SOARES: To any sneaky junior, his ability to skip gym and leave Mr. Kurty with the belief that he was there all the time.

EDWARD SOCHA: To his brother Tom, the ability to do all of his homework in school.

KAREN SORCINELLI: To Al Casimiro, her gym suit so he can show off his pretty legs.

RICHARD SOROKA: To John Haluch, his ability to be quiet at ALL TIMES.

JOAN ST. JOHN: To her sister Cynthia, and to Barbara Rhodes, the fun of getting to their locker at the end of school without being flattened against some other locker.

RICHARD STONE: To some unfortunate junior, all his senior books.

MICHAEL SZLOSEK: To Margaret Webb, his parking space in front of the sign saying, "Hospital Parking Only."

RENA TATRO: To her brother Calvin, her ability to get Mr. Rooney talking on how he protected the Great Lakes from invasion during World War II.

MIRIAM TAYLOR: To Bruce Dickey, the second-hand transmission she dropped in front of school.

RICHARD THOMPSON: To next year's senior class treasurer, all his problems, headaches, and no money.

JOHN TIBBETS: To his brother Ray, his beloved seat in Miss Fleming's study.

MANUEL TOMAS: To Judy, his lunch.

CARLINE TRETT: To her sister Alice, she leaves her good fortune in getting Miss Saulnier for English and her ability to pass the course.

STEPHEN TRUSZ: To his brother George, his choice collection of bottle caps, girls, and his red Ford.

CHARLES VALADE: To Tony Aguiar, his ability to play soccer and to see eye to eye with Mr. Kurty.

JAMES WADAS: To his sister, his ability to pass Mr. Boita's class by the width of his smile.

THEODORE WAKEM: To any junior, Mr. Hurley's book reports if he can manage to do them.

PATRICIA WALZ: To her cousin, Dolores Archible, and Ann Saracino, all of the transcriptions that she didn't pass just in case they decide to take "Steno. 2."

SYLVIA WAREHAM: To Harry McDonough and Rodney Labreque, the two safety patrol boys, the front and back doors of room 107—may they guard them as well as they have this year.

WALTER WILCZYNSKI: To his brother and J. B., all of his "cheat sheets," which they don't need but should take anyway.

BARBARA WILKIE: To Linda Krzysek, her wet towel and shower shoes and her smelly sneakers.

CHARLES ZHE: To the junior class, the status of being a senior.

BARBARA ZYCH: To all people whose last name begins with "Z," the last seat in the last row in every class.

Given at the executive chamber, Room 207 of the Ludlow High School, in the year of our Lord one thousand, nine hundred and sixty-two, in the twelfth year of our education, and in the first year of our maturity and freedom.

CLASS PROPHECY

I, Mephistophilos, greatest of the phonies, do hereby in this oracle predict that nothing in the foreseeable future is foreseeable, but in the year 1982, I can see certain strange things happening.

Adamson's Dude Ranch has just been bombed by Palatino's Flying Milk Can, piloted by John Palatino and co-piloted by Gus Sevivas. Jack Fonte, the bombardier, unloaded tons of highly explosive Portuguese meat made at the Mario and Maria Augusto Ammunition Arsenal. It seems that Tony had opened an Orbit Lounge, which was banned in Washington by Richard Soroka, Larry Gagne, and Ted Wakem, the Dance Censorship Committee. Caught in the raid doing the strenuous dance were Sandra Nelson and Charlie Valade. The dance, invented by the wild swinger, Jimmy Evans, incidentally secret inventor of the twist, consists of standing perfectly still and revolving the head as violently as possible until one's eyeballs pop out. Two optometrists, Anne Beauregard and Patty Flelotte, are doing a booming business selling oversized contact lenses which keep the eyeballs in one's head.

Meanwhile, on the other side of the globe, Bob McChesney is on an exploratory expedition to Africa to search for rare Model A parts for Millionaire Bobby Howes.

Back in New York, Judy Coddling is a dress designer showing her latest creation, a full-length gown fashioned from a poly-ethylene bag. It is modeled by Cynthia Saletnik and Jackie Hope—WOW!

Down in Greenwich Village, Mike Carroll is trying to make Frank Nietupski understand his poetry. His latest is a version of the Iliad entitled, While Ulysses Is Away, Penelope Will Play. Mike will be giving a reading at the White House for President Chet Hawrylcw. Joe Kaweck is busy at work in the White House hooking up the loud speaker system so that the poetry can be heard all over the country. Judy Humber is covering the event for the New York Times.

Up in New Hampshire, Jack Henderson and Lance LeBrasseur have entered their hot tricycles in the World Championship Tricycle Race from Laconia, N.H., to Miami, Florida. It is expected that they will reach the finish line in 3 years, 47 days, 22 hours, and 17 minutes!

David Bourcier is now operating a Chevy agency where he deals strictly in six-cylinder automatic transmissions. He is a conscientious devoté of drag racing. Robert Moore is posing as a model for a suntan lotion company; he is being an example of what happens if you don't use their product. Jim Ouimette has just made his first million from a record entitled, "How to Speak Rebel Talk for Yankees."

Martin and Elaine Smith are co-owners of a factory in Los Angeles selling "Smith's Small Smog Smellers," so that people will know when the smog comes in.

Betty Abair, "world renowned culinary artist," is responsible for the meal which set off an international crisis. John Saletnik, ambassador to Poland, was highly insulted when Betty mixed some of Manuel Tomas's highly potent Portuguese brew into the salad oil. Not only that, but it gave John heartburn and an upset stomach for three days, so that he missed the daily double at the Polish National Raceway.

Elizabeth Barth is still refusing to have her picture taken. She slugged Steve Trusz when he tried to take her picture at a formal affair at the home of Barry Dias, the last astronaut to make an orbit around the night clubs of Paris.

Looking ahead to the year 2000, I find Joe Queiroga, retired Navy officer, organizing trips to Neptune for people tired of traveling to the moon. There is a Comet Guard installation on Neptune ruled over by Anne Mongeon and Elaine Smith. Wonder why?

Walter Wilczynski has signed up as first passenger. He plans to set up a gas station where he can sell Neptunian gas. Michele Alves and Mary Lopes are running a travel agency for Joe with special rates for honeymooners. Armand Minnie plans to open a Volkswagen agency, and Nancy Hiersche will export the first sheep to the planet. Ronald O'Keefe will set up the first newspaper for all the latest news collected by that master ferret, Sheryl Bolaski.

Teddy Prorok is building a golf course and also opening, (on each hole), a concession for hungry golfers. Manny Castro is reported to be writing a new language for the planet.

Meanwhile, back on Mother Earth, Alice Cipriano is trying to revive the Charleston. Joan Migacy is featured at the Copacabana Club, assisted by her troupe of dancers including "Bubbles" McDonald, "Little Egypt" Castenera, and "Trixie" Kivier. The cool, cool musicians are Richard Melberg and Stu Fuller, currently known as "Hot Lips Stu." Charlie Zhe and Richard Guerci have written a best-seller entitled, "How to Get Along Widout Babes Widout Half Tryin'."

Alfred Houle and Mike Fairbanks have teamed up as the hottest money-making duo in history. Mike transfixes the audience with his singing, while Alfie goes through the audience picking pockets.

Miriam Taylor and Rena Tatro are conferring over the price of beer in the Gobi Desert. After defeating Arnold Palmer in a sudden-death playoff at the Masters, Jimmy Wadas has finally been named "Mr. Golf" by all the sportswriters. Sandra Duchesne and Jeanne Duquette now own a controlling interest in the Eiffel Tower; they bought it 342 times on their recent trip to Paris. Sandra Evangelista is Ipana's girl Friday for her quick, on-the-spot smile. Dorothy Alphonso was named "Miss Sweetness" of 1982. Donna Bruni runs a boarding school for girls, and her teachers include Barbara Carrington and Elaine Carroll. Mike Carleton has stunned America's audiences with his performance at Carnegie Hall. It seems he plays the piano, stands on it, tells clever jokes, and dances all over the harp. Consequently, Larry Carpenter tunes the piano every day. Geraldine Chenevert and Ferne Chestnut are co-presidents of the Carlton Electric Fan Club. Jane Ciborowski and Louis De Tomas find themselves beset by the fan club members for not joining the admirers. Tom Cairns and Joan Bruschi are attempting to promote Mike as the number one teen-age idol.

Philomena Fabrocini is running a food stand where she sells "Phil Fab's Fabulous French Fries." Barbara Figal was the first to sue when she found out the French fries were just cardboard. John Fournier, Elizabeth Genthner, and Mitch Grzywoc are attempting to remove Jeanette Hill from the office of State Governor on the grounds that she did not give them the state gravy train she promised them before she was elected. Attorney General Jaqueline Kelly says that the position of chief Advisor to all Disc Jockeys, which the trio wants, does not exist under the Constitution.

Dave Russell has just been awarded the Mad Magazine "Loafer of the Year" Award for goofing off on 47 consecutive jobs and getting fired from each one. He narrowly nosed out Manny Soares, who thought he had the title in the bag when he was fired from a window-washing job on the Empire State Building when he fell asleep at the 74th floor.

Phyllis Kozyra owns the world-championship girls' basketball team. The team includes Carolyn "the Tower" Kowalski, Mitzie "the Blonde Bomber" Makuch, and Sandra "the Shot" Saletnik. Richie Rodrigues and Joe Ross have invented a spring tonic with the name, "Ro-Ro's Go-Go Juice." Frances Prystupa and Barbara Ondre opened a chain of grocery stores called the O&P. Gail Kravick and Carol Kulig still hire themselves out as chief-typists for high school yearbooks. Elizabeth Livermore, Peter Paliki, and Ronnie Pobieglo have all tied for the title of "American of the Year" by voting 54 times each in the last presidential election. Sylvia Sibik and Dick Thompson make a fine team of detectives. They recently solved the case of the missing model planes. They found the plastic airplanes under Carlene Trett's pillow. Steve Trusz and Pat Walz have lost out in the contest for title of "Redhead of the Year." Barbara Wilkie, with the help of Avon, took the award.

Barbara Zych is attempting to rearrange the alphabet so that the letter "Z" will not be last. She is aided and abetted by Sylvia Wareham, who hopes "W" will also be moved up. Jean St. John and Karen Sorcinelli are attempting to break into the movies by giving out free samples of John Tibbett's amazing new product called "Tib's Tender Torso Tonic." Edward Socha, top T.V. producer, egged on by the number one leading man in moviedom, Richard Stone, finally hired the girls as "heavies." Doug Sanford objected, feeling he might be replaced as Hollywood's number one "heavy."

Finally, Dorothy Sepiol, Mary Jane Severyn, and Jean Saracino have erected on the lawn of the "old" Ludlow High School, a statue commemorating our class reunion on this, the 20th anniversary of our graduation.

SPECIAL SENIOR SUPPLEMENT

...graduation is here...

fond farewells

Members of the Class of 1962:

Your graduation on June 13, 1962 prompts me as Principal of the Ludlow High School to express to all of you in a formal manner my regrets that the association of these past years must be ended.

It's Almost Over

We've staggered and we've stumbled,
We've quarreled and we've grumbled
We've faced each other with a smile

It's Been A Grand Year...

school quiz show, "As Schools Match Wits," whose purpose was to encourage keen competition among students. Judy Humber, Mike Carvo, Bob McChesney, and Dave Russell were Ludlow's "Quiz K'ids."

One of the most exciting times in a Senior's life is the annual Senior Show. This year's success took place on February 7 and 8; but of course, the planning, rehearsals, and confusion began many weeks before the actual presentation. There was a variety of songs, dances, and comedy skits. The participants had a wonderful time rehearsing for the show and acting before the public.

The basketball team ended their season with a commendable record. They were fortunate enough to receive and accept an invitation to defend their title in the Small School Tournament. Although this year did not produce another, the team, cheerleaders, and majorettes did an excellent job.

The hectic months are now coming to a close. The Seniors are preparing for Ivy Day, the Class Banquet, the Junior Prom given in their honor, but the most memorable day of all is June 13 Graduation. With a tear in their eye, they will say good-bye to the "Halls of Ivy" and look ahead to a prosperous and happy future.

This be News, we to the n

First and foremost to our advisor, Mr. William Rooney, go our sincere thanks. Without his sense of humor, interest, and experience it would have been impossible to compile this newspaper. To Mr. John Tokarz and his staff at the Palmer Printing Press we say "thank-you." For it was through their time and effort that our paper was able to be published each issue.

Our competent editorial staff did an excellent job of procuring and producing the news articles. Their willingness and ability to work made our task of seeking writers an easy one. Although it was not always possible to provide each writer with a news feature, we tried to alternate our selections. The typing staff, under the able guidance of Sheryl Bolaski, helped in the preparation of our articles to be sent to the printer.

To our successor Jo Anne Diotalevi and her newly-chosen staff, we wish the best of luck in the coming year. We are sure they will work to uphold the popularity and prestige of our school newspaper.

Without a doubt, we can truly say that serving as Co-editors of this paper has been a completely rewarding and worthwhile experience. It was an honor for us to be chosen for this position and one which we shall always remember.

Although I am only in the eighth grade, I have my last day of school planned; that is, after the regular last day procedures are through.

First, I will walk through the halls and say good-bye to my teachers quite seriously and sadly, secretly hiding a smile and thinking how glad I am to be getting rid of these homework slave drivers. After that, I will walk out of this building, for the last time as a real part of it.

When I'm outside I will say some last good-byes to classmates and friends. Then, when no one is in sight, I will let out a hip-hip-hurray!! Hurray!! I'll be happy to be done with the general school-student routine, happy to be a part of a new and adventurous life full of new and large experiences. Others, including my parents and other graduates, have told me this is not how it will be. It will be a sad event, one with happy memories of the past and a strange new world to enter. School-days are the happiest ones they say and I shall no longer know the meaning of

See You in September...

by Peggy Avezzle

With the close of school and summer vacation just around the corner, we bid a fond farewell not only to the present senior class of L.H.S. but also to Ludlow High itself. For when we return in September we will begin occupation in the new high school, which is located on Chapin Street. We would like to take this opportunity to wish the entire senior class good luck in the future and also tell you a little about the new high school.

A few brief thumbnail sketches of the different rooms in the high school should give you an idea of what you can expect to see when you return in September.

Elevator

The first new feature of the school will be an elevator. However, it will not be open for use to the entire student body. Its main purpose will be that of transporting handicapped students to the various floors. Thus, the only way one can get to use it will be by breaking a leg, ankle, etc. So if you have designs on using the elevator, you had better wait until the fall before you decide to break a leg.

Auditorium

The new auditorium, unlike our present one, will comfortably seat 1,000 people. The seats will be completely cushioned and placed on an upgrade. The stage will have two adjoining dressing rooms, and a projection room will be located in the back of the auditorium. I'll bet you can't wait until the first assembly!

Gymnasium

For the first time, L.H.S. will be able to hold their basketball games in the school. This spacious, new gymnasium will comfortably seat 1,000 to 1,200 spectators. The bleachers will fold up into the wall, and the gymnasium will be divided into two smaller courts by a folding wall. This of course is for the convenience of both the girls' and boys' gym classes. I'm sure that this will be one of the most popular places in the new high school.

Cafeteria

The new cafeteria will be a purpose. It will be a place where the students will be held. The store area will be a large amount of students, equipped with various vices.

Library

Our new library will be a place where the students will be held. The store area will be a large amount of students, equipped with various vices.

Seating

The new seating will be a place where the students will be held. The store area will be a large amount of students, equipped with various vices.

These are only a few of the many new features you can expect to see in the new high school. Other classrooms such as machine shop, art, sewing, and cooking labs, and all the business classes are also sure to hold your attention. So as you count the final days until the close of school just stop and think of what you have to look forward to when you return in the fall!

Students Elect Officers For 62-63 School Year

Our return from summer vacation next September (this excludes the present seniors) will find us in a modern new high school. SENIORS SCORE SPECTACULAR SUCCESS ON AS SCHOOLS MATCH WITS

On November 2, 1962, Ludlow made television history in the greater Springfield area when a panel of L.H.S. seniors made its first of five consecutive appearances on Channel 22's new quiz program, AS SCHOOLS MATCH WITS. Ludlow's first opponent was a confident quartet from Cathedral High, a quartet flushed with its victory the previous week over Springfield Technical High School. Ludlow, with lightning speed, doubled Cathedral's score and emerged with a total of 180 points. In the next few days, congratulatory letters, telephone calls, and verbal praise poured into the high school office.

On November 9, Ludlow, with a score of 120 to 110, defeated Minnechaug, and on the following Thursday was an easy victor over Sacred Heart of Holyoke and Holyoke High School. The last contest had extra tension in that to an ever-growing television audience were added friends, relatives, and college students home for the Thanksgiving Day holiday.

Finally, on November 30, Chicopee High School, by scoring in the last few seconds of the program, won by the very slim margin of one question (10 points)!

"Phil" Shepardson, moderator of the program, says that this program is based on quick recall of facts and is not to be a way of measuring the quality of the various school systems appearing on the program. However, the general consensus of the community was that this panel of seniors proved the high caliber of its educational background, brought glory to the town, and truly earned its kudos as a group of outstanding students.

The Class of 1962 is, indeed, proud of Michael H. Carroll, Judith A. Humber, Robert D. McChesney, and David G. Russell, our first representatives on AS SCHOOLS MATCH WITS.

SOCCER — 33 YEARS AT LUDLOW

Ludlow High School started playing soccer in 1929. A five-game schedule was played at that time. Losses were to A.I.C. twice and West Springfield twice. The lone win was against Commerce. Due to the scarcity of high school opposition, many of Ludlow's games were against college and academy teams. Many of the early championships were mythical, since there was no league play or Western Mass. Tournament.

In 1934 the Valley Wheel Soccer League was formed. Ludlow was Valley Wheel champion in 1934, 1936, 1937, 1938, and 1939. In 1939 the League disbanded. In 1938 and 1939, Ludlow defeated Eastern Massachusetts' powerful New Bedford for the Mythical State Title.

In 1946 the Western Mass. Soccer Tournament came into existence. In 16 years, Ludlow has won or shared 10 titles.

In 1958 the Pioneer Valley Soccer League was formed. Ludlow has won four consecutive crowns.

Streaks:

1. Unbeaten 1936-1940—50 games
2. Unbeaten 1942-1948—48 games
3. Unscored upon 1944-1946—20 games

Individual records:

1. Most goals for one season:
John Nascimento, 1950, 31 goals in 13 games
Stan Ryczek, 1957, 29 goals in 14 games
Jack Fonte, Sr., 1938, 20 goals in 12 games
